Want Public Office Fall In Line Now For Town Election

The fiscal year for the town will end December 31st and all officials and departments will be unusually busy to complete their reports for presentation in published form to the voters at the annual meeting early in February. Owing to the difficulties of publication, scarcity of labor in particular, these reports must be concluded earlier than usual. The state auditors are also expected during the first week in January for a complete check-up. The final meeting of the Selectmen will be Tuesday evening, December 28 and all outstanding bills must be in their hands at that time. Town officials who are called upon for exacting labor to close their books and accounts for presentation to the auditors are the town auditor, the treasurer and the tax collector.

The town election will call for the nomination of a Town Clerk a Town Treasurer; a Collector of Taxes; three Selectmen; a member of the Board of Assessors; a Moderator; two members of the Library Trustees; a member of the School committee; a Cemetery Commissioner; four Constables. A Tree Warden. Any qualified citizen may compete for any of the town offices, by the filing of nomination papers with the required signatures either as an independent, or representative of their political party with the endorsement of the organization. No caucus will be held this year for nominations and they will be entirely made by the filing of papers. The Republican Town committee at its forthcoming session will consider the list of names suggested for its endorsements and by the way, this committee has two vacancies to be filled also. With the absence of many of our men in the service, it looks like a quiet election with a limited attendance at the annual town meeting.

The Siren Went Well Winds Carried Sound

Last Saturday afternoon, promptly at one o'clock the new siren on a twenty-five foot steel frame tower atop the headquarters of the Fire Department was officially tested in the presence of Fire Chief Charles Johnson and Chairman Richard G. Holton of the protective division of Civilian Defense. The siren responded to the push of a button with loud and clear tones and was heard by all residents in the vicinity, but the prevailing high wind carried the sound within a limited area and many living at a distance heard nothing. The weather proved a deterrent to a successful test and it may be repeated at another time. We are all "a-listening."

P. S. As we go to press, we are informed that the siren will sound every Saturday afternoon at one o'clock for test purposes, the test being in charge of the Chief of the Fire Department.

Get Workers Permit From Your School

Department of Labor inspectors have found evidence of changes being made in Work Permits and Educational Certificates after issuance by Superintendent of Schools.

Many more people are working today than ever before. If you are under 21 years of age, and if you have not obtained a work permit do so at once. The responsibility of demanding this work permit rests with the employer, but the issuance of the same can be made only to you, in person, by the Superintendent of Schools or his agent.

The school office is open from 8:30 to 5:00 daily. If you are unable to come at these hours, a permit may be obtained at the home of the Superintendent after making an appointment by telephone or note. If you did not attend the first grade in Northfield, bring a copy of your birth certificate. No one else can get this permit for you.

Men Know Their Beans Brotherhood Supper Brought Out Many

The meeting of the Northfield Brotherhood was well attended on Tuesday evening at the church vestry and President Robert N. Taylor presided at a short business session afterward. When adjournment the group of members divided into two sections one going to Mount Hermon to witness the showing of an excellent film "The Stage Door Canteen" and the other going to the Seminary to hear Dr. Hans Kohn of Smith college speak on "current events." To hear Dr. Kohn in Silverthorne hall was indeed a profitable privilege and the audience which listened to him felt that they had received some very sound conclusions on the various situations which the war had brought about. Members expressed their gratitude to Dr. Mira Wilson, principal of the Seminary and to Dr. William E. Park, headmaster at Mount Hermon school for making attendance possible at these two gatherings.

Enjoyed Symphony Greenfield Concert

Notwithstanding the period of cold weather, last Sunday provided no deterrent to many music lovers in Northfield and Mount Hermon to wend their way to Greenfield by auto or by bus to listen to the first concert of the fifth season of the Pioneer Valley Symphony orchestra, directed by Harold Leslie.

The concert was given in the High school auditorium and the guest artist was Jesus Maria Sanroma, concert pianist. All attending were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the renditions of the artist and the orchestra and felt well repaid for the endeavor made to hear the performance. Sanroma proved himself again a master of his instrument and played with amazing skill. The orchestra never played better and its director, always in perfect control blended the volume to a pleasing measure. President Reid of the Symphony Association greeted many friends and received the congratulations for the very successful performance of its concert. The second concert of the season is scheduled for Sunday February 20, when George Finckel, violinist, will be the guest artist.

Christmas Eve Concert

On Christmas Eve, Friday, December 24, there will be an hour's program of a Community Concert to honor service men in the Town Hall from 7:30 to 8:30.

The first half of the program will be devoted to the Christmas Spirit which nineteen centuries ago promised that some day there would be "Peace on earth and good will among men."

The second half of the program will honor our Northfield boys and girls in the Services, including those home on leave. Also those scattered to the farthest corners of the earth. From Alaska, the Southwest Pacific, Italy, Africa, India, and China, their loving thoughts will be turning homeward at this time, and it is only fitting that we should set aside one hour in which to remember them with pride and thanksgiving.

Community singing, instrumental numbers, and greetings from the Servicemen will comprise the evening's entertainment, and it is hoped that every man, woman and child in Northfield will make an effort to be present. Transportation will be arranged for those otherwise unable to attend. Phone 548. Mrs. E. M. Powell is generously sponsoring the affair.

Read Your Speedometer

All drivers applying for a renewal of their gasoline ration at the local Ration board, who are unable to give a speedometer reading, are required by new regulations issued by the OPA to have the speedometer fixed or else submit a statement by the inspecting garage, that it is impossible to repair the speedometer.

Will Erect And Dedicate Honor Roll Committee To Complete Job

The Honor Roll committee met Monday night in the Selectmen's Room in Town Hall for the final selection of names and at the close of the meeting announced that the completed list totalled 194. The names are now being lettered on a separate board, which will be inserted in the finished structure later, while the framework is being given preliminary painting under cover before it is erected at the Town Hall site.

Because of the unexpectedly large number of names and the unpredictable period required for paint to dry in zero weather, no

Oranges On The Way Filling Local Orders

Delicious tree picked oranges from the Florida orchards of Spurgeon Gage are on their way by express from Orlando. The first order sent in by Harold F. Bigelow of the East Northfield post office was for fifty-two bushels and he has received word that they were sent by express last Friday. Another order for twenty-six bushels has also been sent to Mr. Gage and he will fill the order as soon as it is possible, but owing to the scarcity of help, the difficulty of getting baskets, etc. there may be some delay. Florida oranges because of their fine quality are being bought up and the price has also increased to cover the additional costs, but Mr. Gage will adhere to his published low price to all former customers. In checking with many advertisements which have appeared in the newspapers, the prices quoted by Mr. Gage are much the lowest. From all indications the demand from Northfield citizens will be met, and if any additional persons expect to get their oranges, the order must be immediately given.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Franklin Chrisman of Brown Summit, No. Carolina, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter Miss Jeanetta Chrisman of Greensboro, N. C., and Sergeant Aiden D. The bride is making her home with her sister, Mrs. T. H. Spencer of Greensboro. She is a graduate of Monticello High school, attended McClung's Business College, and is employed by the Duke Power Co.

Give him a crisp WAR BOND for a Christmas present to be remembered. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

date has been set for the completion of this project. The committee has decided to have the work done as well as possible rather than to risk weather damage which might result from rushing the job to meet a specified date.

By request of the Selectmen and many citizens the committee were authorized to complete the erection of the Honor Roll and provide for its dedication before turning it over to the town for future maintenance. A revised list of the names as they appear on the board will be published later in the Press.

And Winter's Here Nobody Can Deny

When the cold gets inside and the window panes are covered with frost and the temperature is low because you want to economize and help the government, you may know the howling gales and the falling thermometer may have no sympathy for you. There is no comfort when the mercury plays up and down around the zero mark. Last week end brought on the toughest weather of the season and we couldn't agree with that weather prophet who a few weeks ago said the winter would be pleasant and mild. While we have had very little snow, the ground is frozen and here and there are patches of ice and snow from the first fall on November 15. Anyway winter hasn't arrived yet for officially it begins on the 22nd, which by the way marks the period of the shortest days. Not until January and February have passed, and we have endured the storms, sleet and cold, for our purgatory experience, will we be enabled to look forward to the privileges and pleasures of a rising temperature.

Unitarian Church Rev. Arthur Heeb

Christmas Vespers Enjoyed Last Sunday At Hermon Seminary

Many attended the Christmas Vespers on Sunday evening at Sage Chapel on the Seminary campus and on Sunday afternoon at Mount Hermon chapel. The combined choirs of both the Seminary and Mount Hermon participated under the direction of Albert R. Raymond of the music faculty of Hermon. The programs were rendered as published in last week's Press. The rendition was excellent and appreciated by the audiences which constituted the student body of the schools and faculty members together with many visitors and townspeople. At the Seminary the chimes were heard with appreciation by all hearers as they have been heralded on several days. The tunes played were all of familiar hymns and Christmas memories.

Christmas Sunday At Methodist Church

Christmas Sunday will be observed at the Methodist church in Greenfield with a special service next Sunday morning. The sermon will be on "Keeping Christmas" and there will be special music with Morris R. Burroughs as guest soloist. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the denomination to attend the service which is at 10:45 A. M.

Relief Clothing Sent

Six boxes of clothing for men, women and children were sent from Northfield this week to be distributed by the British and Russian War Relief agencies in Boston. Through the generosity of the Dignault Express Co. of Greenfield all shipments to Boston are made free of charge. The gifts were contributed by Mount Hermon school, the Seminary, and citizens of the town who left their bundles in the red, white and blue barrel at the IGA store.

TOWN TOPICS

Sections of the Connecticut River are quite solidly frozen over and if cold weather continues there are indications of plenty of ice.

Members of the Civilian Defense have received their new emblems for display on their cars. All the old blue labels must be removed from the windows immediately.

The next meeting of the Fortnightly will be held at Alexander Hall Friday afternoon, January 7 at three o'clock when a musical program will be rendered.

Postmaster Quinlan has enclosed a Christmas greeting card to the patrons of his office. He extends the wish for full blessings of a joyous Yuletide season.

The Civilian Defense committee met Monday evening at the home of its chairman, George McEwan who presided over a short but important business session. The organization will continue in all departments with no curtailment until advised from Washington of its ultimate set-up.

In the primary department of the Unitarian church, Mrs. Herman Miner has prepared a beautiful kresh of figures of the Nativity. It is a reproduction of a famous painting with the figures 10 inches high built up from a sand box. The figures are a valued possession of the Miner family and when shown have created much interest and inspiration.

In answer to many inquiries as to when the new OPA tokens will be used in coupon exchange, the Washington office states that they will be in readiness the last of February. There will be two kinds red and blue, made of plastic material.

The magazine loan table at the Congregational church has many Christmas journals for all interested. The Missionary society has placed several good books on the table which may be borrowed for two weeks reading.

The assessors of the town have begun their work of making the listings of property owners and poll tax payers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Harness are spending some time this winter with relatives in Colrain.

Rev. H. B. Ingalls will be the preacher at the morning service at the Congregational church on Sunday, December 26th.

Mrs. M. P. Stanley is on a visit with her daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Dize at Charlotte, N. C.

The annual town meeting will be held on Monday, February 7th at 10 o'clock in the morning at the Town Hall.

Mrs. Florence Colton of this town is the lecturer for the Valley Pomona Grange and she attended the lecturers' conference at the Bancroft Hotel in Worcester on Friday last.

There's a LOT in a FEW WORDS!

Take your electric company, for example.

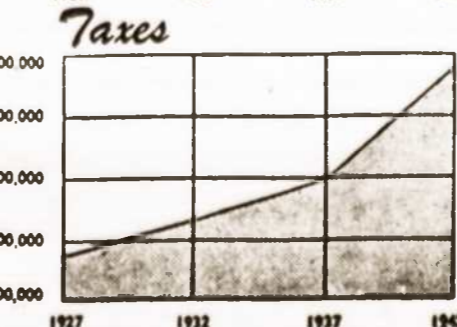

It was born and grew up in the free enterprise system.

It has continued to give the public MORE and MORE for its money — since 1927, the average price of electricity for the home, in the territory served by Western Massachusetts Electric Company, has been reduced 46%.

And during this time the average home use of electricity has increased by 183%.

At the same time, as a self-supporting and tax-paying industry, it has paid MORE and MORE in taxes to the support of government — an increase of 117% since 1927.

Such a record in the past is prophetic of a great future — a free enterprise contributing toward a higher and higher standard of living.

A Help Yourself Cheese Buffet Is Sure of Applause as Holiday Treat

EVERY day is a red letter holiday when the boys in service are home on leave; and, of course, you'll want to give party plans in their honor an A-1 priority rating. A sure way to win their applause as a successful hostess is to arrange a cheese buffet, starring prime male favorites like Camembert and Liederkranz cheese that don't appear on camp menus. Then give your guests the "come and get it" signal for mixing their favorite sandwich combinations.

Basic strategy calls for a tray or platter of cheese flanked by generous supplies of sandwich makings and fruit. You can follow pre-war etiquette and let the cheese lovers cut their own portions of Camembert and Liederkranz cheese because both these favorites have low ration values. For three brown points you get six generous wedges of Camembert, and only two brown points are needed for a package of Liederkranz cheese that serves six. There's no waste to these epicurean treats, either, for even the crust of Liederkranz cheese and Camembert is considered a delicacy. Like other cheeses, they are excellent sources of protein and are so rich in butter fat that no butter at all is needed for sandwich alliances. Toasted split rolls, crackers and rye and pumpernickel bread have a special flavor affinity for these high-flavored delicacies.

Co-star apples, grapes and winter pears in your fruit bowl. Sophisticated cheese usage prescribes slices of apple spread with Camembert cheese. Big black grapes stuffed with Liederkranz cheese are another traditional delicacy that will add interest to your refreshments.

Lettuce Heart Appetizer
For a highly flavored appetizer spread crisp curly leaves from the very heart of a head of lettuce with a dab of Liederkranz cheese.

Liederkranz Cheese and Onion Sandwich Spread
1 package Liederkranz cheese
2 tablespoons beer
2 tablespoons finely minced onion
Mash Liederkranz cheese with a fork until soft and smooth. Add beer gradually and blend to a smooth paste. Fold in onion. Keep in tightly covered jar in refrigerator. Use as a sandwich spread on rye bread or spread on crisp crackers as an appetizer. May also be used as a stuffing for celery.

Here are government food facts almost beyond comprehension.

Tuberculosis is at an all-time high in Belgium. Belgian children are gravely affected with scurvy, anemia, rickets, and skin troubles. Children are reported to have lost from 15 to 50 percent of their weight.

The disease rate in Holland is said to have increased seventy percent. Tuberculosis in Rotterdam has increased six hundred percent—dysentery increased and fifty percent—diphtheria increased more than one thousand percent.

The mortality rate in Holland is FIVE HUNDRED PERCENT GREATER than normal. All Nazi-dominated lands are suffering.

Yet—we are wasting food. You and I... the grocer down the street... the restaurant around the corner... the man who distributes the food to the grocer and the restaurant... the War gardener... the farmer. 20 to 30 percent of the food produced in the United States every year is lost or wasted. Much of this waste cannot be avoided. Much of it CAN!

The crusts of un-eaten bread... the portions of un-touched dinner plates... the vegetables, the meat, the milk, the cream, the butter that spoils before being eaten through neglect or misuse—these could be consumed so that there would be more food for the starved people of Europe, China. So that our fighting forces and the fighting forces of our allies will not go in want.

Each succeeding victory brings liberated people crying for food... crying for food from us, here in America.

It has always been our custom to share with our neighbors. The Pilgrims did so on their first Thanksgiving. Down through the years we took a pie next door to the new family as a token of welcome... we prepared a hot, nourishing dish for the table in the house where death left an empty chair... we took a dozen eggs to the family down the street where a child lay gravely ill.

Now... we have neighbors with a need far greater than any we have ever known.

PLAY SQUARE by producing, conserving, sharing and placing the war's needs above our own.

The Grange held its meeting Tuesday evening and enjoyed a splendid attendance. The members discussed the needs of the town and a majority felt that a recreation building containing a gymnasium should be provided for the use of all, probably as an adjunct to the High school.

At a meeting of the local Health Council held at Center school Monday afternoon, the future of its work was given considerable consideration. A nominating committee was appointed to suggest officers at the annual meeting which takes place Monday, January 10.
